

WEDNESDAY,
SEPTEMBER 21, 1955

THE JERUSALEM POST

PRICE: 100 PRUTA
VOL. XXXI, No. 8204

Column One by David Courtney

AS dictators go, at least in generally described as free, General Juan Domingo Peron's has been reasonably successful. It has had its ups and downs in the manner of Latin American dictatorships, but from the level of a rich, resourceful and territorially extensive country, a great part of the world sees Argentina as a safe haven from Argentinean flour; so that Senator Peron, when he entered upon the office of President of the Republic in 1946, had behind him a wealthy and potentially powerful country and the exercise of almost political control over its Latin American fellow and to set up, in the sphere of the Monroe Doctrine, as something of a political rival to North America.

NOW, from all accounts, Peron has been driven out, not by civil rebellion but by a revolt of the armed forces and particularly of the navy, which had clerical blessing. Whether the Church inspired or merely encouraged the revolt is difficult to determine. The Argentinean navy is a gentlemanly service and its officers are usually men of good and pious family who see their privileges diminished when the privileges of the Church are threatened and who, today, probably feel that Peron's rapidly-increasing dependence on the trade unions was opening the way to some Latin American variety of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

DICTATORS as I think has been said in this Column before, now comes at their peril, especially if the army's leadership is derived from a distinct social order which regards itself as the traditional source of rulership. When, as in the Argentine, the army also includes the Church in its ranks, the ruler has not the peril is doubled. When again, as in the Argentine, the ruler defies not only the Church and the landed gentry but also the Liberal elements in the country, driving the latter far, into the hands of Liberal elements in so many countries have so easily been driven to support of conspirators drawn from the reactionary circles which control the armed forces, then trouble is sure and certain. Senator Peron adds to that recklessness an equally reactionary attitude in his relations with foreign Powers.

It is indeed, Senator Peron has finally lost the battle, his going should not be analyzed in accordance with the customary rules of the going and coming of Latin American dictators. He was not just another dictator in a land of tinpot dictators. He was quite a remarkable man and built up quite a remarkable following. The question is to what now is to be done. The military follows (which, for the first time, has had a taste of privilege) will consider its day done. Its jaunt in the realm of power ended, and will settle down under a new, dictatorial regime which is out of patience with trade unions and the like. Let us do what it is intended to keep its place in a social order restored to its perpendicular posture.

PERON, of course, may have been better in practice than some dictators but was not better for the masses even if the dictator has more sympathy for the masses than for their traditional masters. The question whether a real democracy can flourish in the Argentine is, in any event unanswered, yet probably for some time the Argentines will have to be content with regimes more or less oligarchic in character. It is, however, a country where industry is making rapid strides — textiles and a wide range of heavy and light industries, for example — and where, as a consequence, a working class with ideas in its head is growing up alongside the normally docile peasantry. In short, it may become increasingly difficult for the traditional rulers to maintain their grip. This latest revolt is from the top. One can't help wondering how long it will be before there is revolt from the bottom.

Jerusalem, September 21.

MARSHAL BULGARIN TO VISIT INDIA

MOSCOW, Tuesday (Reuter). — Marshal Bulgarin is to visit India at the end of November or the beginning of December, an Indian Embassy official said today.

The Indian Ambassador, Mr. K. Venkateswaran, called on the Soviet Prime Minister at the Kremlin today to discuss details of the visit which is in return for that paid by Prime Minister Nehru to Russia last June.

TOURISTS!

DO NOTATE! Give a helping hand to those faced in deaf and mute for their entire lives.

WILHELM KELLER HOME

Educational Centre for deaf and mute. Donations can be sent to:

1) Bank Leumi, Tel Aviv, 19 Rehov Herzl, Tel Aviv, 2) Bank of Israel, Tel Aviv, 3) Office of the Association, Tel Aviv, Tel Aviv, Tel Aviv.

Faure Browbeats Opposition To Morocco Reform

PARIS, Tuesday (Reuter). — For the first time for over a week, the French Government today made progress by defeating opposition to the policy over Morocco.

The Premier, M. Edgar Faure, today openly challenged the opposition Cabinet Ministers, including General Pierre Gouraud, Defense Minister, and M. Raymond Tribout, Minister for War Veterans, to cease obstructing his policy or resign. The challenge was made at the meeting of the Council of Ministers this morning. The President, M. De Gaulle, came up specially from his country residence to preside.

Must Begin Now

The Premier then pointed out the urgency of starting to translate into acts what had been promised a week ago. He said that the situation in Morocco was getting strained and the mediator of the Zone with the medians of Moroccan towns inflammatory leaflets against the French were being distributed.

He mentioned the violently anti-French propaganda being carried out by broadcasts from Damascus calling upon Moroccans to "kill 160,000 Frenchmen."

This was not the moment, M. Faure said, to aggravate anti-French feeling in North Africa by delaying the application of the autonomy promised by the Government.

The Cabinet then gave the Premier a free hand to complete his new deal.

M. Pierre July, the Minister for Morocco, announced that the Government had agreed that he should give the Resident General General de Latour "exact and detailed instructions" for carrying out "the questions still in abeyance."

M. July added that the Government had also approved a declaration relating to its Moroccan policy which he said would be published later.

The Third Man

The Premier announced that the quarrel about the third member of the throne Council in Morocco had been settled and was decided to leave the joint hands of M. July and of General de Latour.

These two before nightfall today were to make a definite selection of the third man from a short list approved by the Cabinet. Once made, the Regency Council will enable the Regency Council to be appointed since agreement on the other two names has existed for weeks.

General de Latour will return to Rabat tonight or tomorrow. His first task will be to organize the retirement of Sultan Ben Abdallah so that the Regency Council can be announced and installed.

The leaflets circulated in the native quarters of Marrakesh in South Morocco, today, called for a general strike of several days in protest against the slow progress of the Paris talks. Several fires were reported in the region in the past 24 hours.

The terrorist incidents were reported in Casablanca overnight.

Spain-Israel Ties Seen Improving

BOSTON, Tuesday (INA). — The Spanish Government is interested in Israel's achievements in the fields of exploration for water and well drilling, for the water shortage is a serious and constant problem there, and is investigating special experts in Madrid soon for talks with Government technicians.

This was reported in the "Christian Science Monitor" in a dispatch from Madrid by Richard Mowry. The report said that in deference to Spain's friendship with the Arab countries, the Spanish Government has never established diplomatic relations with Israel, but this does not mean that Spain is actively antagonistic towards the Jewish state.

On the contrary, it was stated, the trend is developing towards closer contacts: there are now two countries: Israel and the Soviet Union, which have agreed to import piping, dental products, and soap.

Persia's Policy Is 'Armed Neutrality'

TEHHER, Tuesday (Reuter). — The Persian Prime Minister, Mr. Hussein Ali, told the Majlis yesterday that armed neutrality was the best policy for Persia.

We must strengthen our armed forces against any possible aggression, and we must have more cooperation with countries which are in a similar position to ourselves as to be alone in case of danger — but our policy is neutrality, he said in a foreign policy statement.

FOUR GERMANS FREED

PRINCIPAL REFUGEE CAMP, West Germany, Tuesday (Reuter). — The first four Germans to be released from the Soviet Union since Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's talk in Moscow arrived here today.

Egyptian Units Destroy Nitzana Border Posts

Units of the Egyptian Army, in a large-scale operation carried through in deliberate violation of the General Armistice Agreement, as well as of the recent cease-fire undertaken, have pulled down and destroyed border posts along the International Frontier in the Nitzana Demilitarized Zone, the Foreign Ministry spokesman announced last night.

The announcement was based on a detailed investigation report prepared by U.N. Observers, which reached the Foreign Ministry yesterday.

The latest deliberate sabotage on the part of Egypt, the spokesman said, came as a culmination of a long series of Egyptian violations of the G.A.A. in the Demilitarized Zone, along the Egyptian-Israeli border, which dates back to the beginning of the year.

On January 3, the Mixed Arbitration Commission adopted a resolution censuring Egypt for the penetration of the Gaza Strip by the Egyptian army into the demarcation line, and that barbed wire barriers would be erected at certain "vital points" in Egyptian-held territory.

The move would be made in accordance with a U.N. Security Council plan calling for the setting up of a "physical barrier" and the setting up of no-man's-land by both sides. The announcement concluded that an Egyptian refused to honour it. Israel and the U.N. observers proceeded to mark the international frontier in the Zone without Egyptian participation.

There followed a series of attempts by Egypt to interfere with this work by using force against the Israel surveyors and the U.N. Observers accompanying them. Reporters protest by Israel against this behaviour were of no avail.

Illegal Positions

Moreover, as a result of the demarcation, it was found that two Egyptian military positions located in contravention of the G.A.A. located within the Demilitarized Zone on the Israeli side of the frontier. Promises made by Egypt to the U.N. Chief of Staff, about the removal of these positions, remained unfulfilled. The outposts were involved in a number of offensive actions against the surveying teams.

The British Ambassador in Cairo, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in touch with Premier Abdul Nasser, according to a U.N. official investigation report of March 25, 1955. All Egyptian outposts in that area had orders to fire at any person, including U.N. personnel, approaching the border. In fact, one such fire was opened from Egyptian positions on March 14, 22 and 27; May 18, 20 and 22; July 26; August 25 and September 1, 1955. Some of these attacks were accompanied by Egyptian military operations into the Demilitarized Zone. No less than three resolutions of the MAC are on record finding Egypt guilty of violations of the G.A.A. in connection with some of the actions of the Egyptian Executive supported this view.

The British Ambassador in Cairo, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in touch with Premier Abdul Nasser, according to a U.N. official investigation report of March 25, 1955. All Egyptian outposts in that area had orders to fire at any person, including U.N. personnel, approaching the border. In fact, one such fire was opened from Egyptian positions on March 14, 22 and 27; May 18, 20 and 22; July 26; August 25 and September 1, 1955. Some of these attacks were accompanied by Egyptian military operations into the Demilitarized Zone. No less than three resolutions of the MAC are on record finding Egypt guilty of violations of the G.A.A. in connection with some of the actions of the Egyptian Executive supported this view.

The British Ambassador in Cairo, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in touch with Premier Abdul Nasser, according to a U.N. official investigation report of March 25, 1955. All Egyptian outposts in that area had orders to fire at any person, including U.N. personnel, approaching the border. In fact, one such fire was opened from Egyptian positions on March 14, 22 and 27; May 18, 20 and 22; July 26; August 25 and September 1, 1955. Some of these attacks were accompanied by Egyptian military operations into the Demilitarized Zone. No less than three resolutions of the MAC are on record finding Egypt guilty of violations of the G.A.A. in connection with some of the actions of the Egyptian Executive supported this view.

The wanton demolition of the boundary posts now carried out by the Egyptian forces, in which they have largely kept within the Demilitarized Zone, were undoubtedly instrumental, brings to a climax Egypt's total disregard of the provisions of the G.A.A. in that area as well as of her own undertakings to regularize the position and deminister from the Gaza Strip.

(Fayadeen, — Page 4)

Four Fayadeen Caught in Negew

An Egyptian soldier who crossed the line south of Zikim settlement, in the Western Negew, was wounded yesterday morning when an Israeli patrol opened fire on him, the Army spokesman announced. The wounded man was removed to Egyptian territory by two other Egyptian soldiers.

Two pairs of armed Arabs from the Gaza Strip were caught in the Western Negew last Thursday and Friday, the spokesman added. The four Arabs, carrying weapons and ammunition of a type used by the Egyptian Army, were wearing the head-dress of the fedaives. On interrogation, they admitted having been sent by the Egyptian Army command in the Gaza Strip.

(Fayadeen, — Page 4, Col. 5)

Minister Quits Beirut Gov't After 12 Hours

The new Lebanese Cabinet under Premier Rashid Karameh, took office 12 hours after it was formed, when the Minister of Communications walked out yesterday.

The 54-year-old Premier, young in the Lebanon's history, succeeded in forming a Government to end a six-day crisis resulting from the resignation of Saad-eddin. The Defense Minister, Dr. Emir Majid Arsalan, and several newcomers included in the Cabinet.

Karaméh said that his Government would adhere to the policy of cooperation with Arab League member states and would "not let Palestine."

The position of the new Syrian Cabinet, however, was extremely delicate, as Al-Shaab ministerialists have openly declared that they will oppose any move by Prime Minister Ghazi to drag Syria into the Cairo-Riadh axis, while Democratic M.P.s led by Khatib Al-Aziz, they will refuse to support any measure which does not undertake to sign a treaty immediately.

(NEHAR, ANA)

NEW REMEDY MAY WIPE OUT T.B.

CHICAGO, Tuesday (UPI). — Four Minnesota research experts say they have found a new remedy which may wipe out tuberculosis.

They said it is the stage for next month's Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Geneva, enabling Russia to discuss reunification without the presence of both East and West German representatives.

We must strengthen our armed forces against any possible aggression, and we must have more cooperation with countries which are in a similar position to ourselves as to be alone in case of danger — but our policy is neutrality, he said in a foreign policy statement.

Western Allied officials said in Berlin that the primary objective of the treaty appeared to be to give the East German Government responsibility for negotiating German reunification.

They said it is the stage for next month's Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Geneva, enabling Russia to discuss reunification without the presence of both East and West German representatives.

BULGARIA TO CUT ARMY

VIENNA, Tuesday (UPI). — Bulgaria announced tonight that she will reduce her armed forces by 20 per cent on December 31, 1955. Radio Sofia said that this move would contribute to the further easing of international tensions and the consolidation of mutual trust between nations in the spirit of the Geneva Conference.

Mr. Dulles chose aide for negotiations' Washington, Tuesday (UPI). — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles yesterday appointed Mr. William Jackson, a New York lawyer and investment banker, as a special assistant to develop plans for negotiation with the Soviet Union on removing barriers to East-West economic ties.

DOCTORS BACK ON FULL TIME, DEFER STRIKE THREAT

Doctors Back On Full Time, Defer Strike Threat

Jerusalem Post Staff

Employed physicians throughout the country decided to return to full-time work schedules today when the all-out strike which was to have started this morning was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

The Central Committee, together with representatives of the professional organizations, decided to accede to Mr. Ben-Gurion's request to join the public strike.

The strike, which was to have started this morning, was averted at a meeting last night between Mr. David Ben-Gurion and the Central Committee of the Israel Medical Association.

</

Mr. Gassman	20	20	20
Tiberias	20	20	20
Haifa Port	20	20	20
Tel Aviv Airport	20	20	20
Jaffa Airport	20	20	20
Jerusalem	20	20	20
Acre	20	20	20
Haifa	20	20	20
(a) Shomron at 2 a.m. to 20 Maxima 20 Min. 20 Max. 20 Min. 20 Max. 20 Min. 20	20	20	20

FIVE MICROFILMS of Hebrew manuscripts now in the Lenin National Library in Moscow have been received by the Ministry of Education and Culture from the Soviet Embassy. The films were sent through the Foreign Minister at the request of the Minister of Education and Culture, Professor Dovrat.

FIFTY-FOUR Arab teachers out of 223 who took written examinations in April have received higher teaching certificates from the Ministry of Education and yesterday two teachers were given licences while 42 were granted as unlicensed teachers. Grade One and ten as "unlicensed teachers, Grade Two" and must take further examinations.

AN AMMUNITION dump dating back before the War of Independence was discovered at Kibbutz Lehatov Hahavim in eastern Upper Galilee last night. Police sappers removed 100 live shells and grenades, and thousands of rounds of rifle ammunition.

A SATCHEL containing two pistols and six bullets was found in Steinmeyer's bookshop on Jaffa Road in Jerusalem. It was handed in to the Lost Property Department at the police station in the Russian Compound. The bag has not yet been claimed.

A NEW post office branch for Kfar Saba was opened this week in the shop of Mr. Rosenfeld, Shukim Ha'aleya. Office hours will be from 8-5 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and from 10 a.m. till noon on Friday.

AN ENGLISH edition of the report of the Government committee which investigated the shooting of the "El Al" planes over Bulgaria was released yesterday by the Government Printer on behalf of the Ministry of Transport. The price is 10s 6d.

BOLIVIAN MINISTER HERE ON VISIT

LYDDA AIRPORT, Tuesday. — Mr. Quadro Sanchez, Bolivian Minister of Finance and Mr. P. A. Antunes, President of the Central Bank of Bolivia, arrived here today on a three-day visit as guests of the Government after attending the International Monetary Fund Congress in Istanbul.

They were greeted at the airport by the Bolivian Consul, Mr. Franklin, and Foreign Ministry representatives.

Mr. Clement Jumelle, Haitian Minister of Finance who left within a short time of the arrival of the Bolivian visitors, after a four-day visit as guest of the Government, said before departing that his Government would study the possibilities of imposing machinery, cement and pharmaceutical products from this country.

Mr. Jumelle, who left with his wife, Mrs. Letallard, wife of the Haitian Minister of Defense, said he would endeavour to send a trade delegation to Israel, and expressed the hope that the two countries would be able to establish close trade relations.

Yesterday Mr. Jumelle visited the Land Development Division of the Jewish National Fund Main Office and discussed matters connected with reforestation and soil development with the Division's Director, Mr. Y. Watz. Later, he visited the J.N.F. tree nursery in Eshtaol, in the Jerusalem Corridor.

ISRAEL GETS THIRD PRIZE AT EXIMIA TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — The Israel Pavilion at the Eximia Fair has won third prize in England, second prize in Western Germany, second prize. Fourth prize went to Czechoslovakia, it was learned here today.

We extend our sincere condolences to the Cohen Family on the anniversary of the death of their sister Mrs. Ines Molcho

WIZO, Tel Aviv Branch

With deep sorrow we announce the untimely death of our beloved and devoted wife, mother, grandmother and sister Mrs. Regina Baecker (nee Koppel)

Yehoshua Baecker — husband, Zichron Ya'akov. Israel and Miriam Blum (nee Baecker), Zichron Ya'akov. Dovon Blum, Zichron Ya'akov. Joachim and Hanna Baecker (nee Stidler) Cardiff, Wales. Leon Koppel and family, London. Anna Weinberger (nee Koppel) and family, London.

We deeply regret to announce the untimely death of our Director

Mr. Klaus H. Pick,

70 Israelis Get Licences As Aircraft Maintenance Engineers

A three-day examination for the licensing of 70 locally trained aircraft maintenance engineers for the servicing of Cessna aircraft was begun at Z.O.A. House, Tel Aviv, yesterday, by the Department of Civil Aviation of the Ministry of Transport with the advice of the International Civil Aviation Organization. All candidates have served for several years by Z.O.A. as maintenance engineers, but were not allowed to make final checks and sign airworthiness certificates, an official statement said last night.

The exhaustive examination papers were set by the Department of Civil Aviation in accordance with the standards promulgated by the International Civil Aviation Organization, and will be valid in every member country of the I.C.A.O. The Department is assisted by the Chief of Mr. Robert Ashton, a Civil Aviation expert from the United Kingdom from whom the examination is being conducted. Service to Europe will, however, be continued with Constellation aircraft or similar types.

Restrictions Eased On N. African Immigration

Restrictions on the immigration of families from North Africa are being eased. Mr. E. Margal, head of the Agency for Jewish Immigration, Department of the Agency Executive in Jerusalem, said that families would now be brought in without regard to the number of dependents, and in certain cases, even if the dependents were ill.

Mr. Meir Kal, head of the Youth Aliyah Department, opened a discussion on conserving the activities of missionaries by increased efforts on the part of Youth Aliyah, the Agency, the Bureau for Social Welfare, Keren Hayesod and other public bodies.

Participation of Yakhin-Hakaf in the "Invest-in-Groves" scheme of the Development Authority was discussed by Mr. Avraham Ben-Avraham, Head of the Settlement Department. The Executive decided to support the scheme at further meetings. It takes a positive view of the prospect which enables a person to acquire between 10 and 20 dunams of citrus groves.

150 GET CERTIFICATES From Labour Ministry

TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — About 150 managers, foremen, Defence Forces officers and sergeants who successfully completed courses on job instruction, job relations and job methods held by the Labour Ministry received their graduation certificates at a reception at the Oranim Garden on Mt. Carmel tonight.

The courses were held on the American "Training Within Industry" (T.W.I.) system and lasted three weeks. Labour Ministry instructors go to industrial plants or Army installations where they give instruction to small groups of about dozen persons each, on a mutual discussion basis. All instruction is paid for by the Ministry.

Mr. P. Hammarberg, Director of the Labour Ministry's Vocational Training Department, presented the certificates to the graduates. In the past four years, 200 such courses have been held.

Man Stabbed In Holon Street

TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — Thus far our brother's spilled blood" — The Dangur brothers of Holon, mothers shouted as they allegedly sank their knives six times into the body of Shmuel Barbu in Holon yesterday — and disappeared.

Police report that the incident occurred near the Holon Labour Exchange. Barbu, who allegedly stabbed a member of the Dangur family during a fight about a month ago, had been strolling along with his brother, Shmuel and Barbu. They are reported to have reached him with knives in various parts of his body. After treatment at the Dono Hospital in Jaffa, where he was taken by ambulance, he was sent home.

TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — The Israel National Fund Main Office and discussed matters connected with reforestation and soil development with the Division's Director, Mr. Y. Watz. Later, he visited the J.N.F. tree nursery in Eshtaol, in the Jerusalem Corridor.

We extend our sincere condolences to the Cohen Family on the anniversary of the death of their sister Mrs. Ines Molcho

WIZO, Tel Aviv Branch

With deep sorrow we announce the untimely death of our beloved and devoted wife, mother, grandmother and sister Mrs. Regina Baecker (nee Koppel)

Yehoshua Baecker — husband, Zichron Ya'akov. Israel and Miriam Blum (nee Baecker), Zichron Ya'akov. Dovon Blum, Zichron Ya'akov. Joachim and Hanna Baecker (nee Stidler) Cardiff, Wales. Leon Koppel and family, London. Anna Weinberger (nee Koppel) and family, London.

We deeply regret to announce the untimely death of our Director

Mr. Klaus H. Pick,

London.

Lucy Borchard Shipping Ltd.

Cinemas Re-Open In Tel Aviv, Haifa

Jerusalem Post Bureau

TEL AVIV, Tuesday. — Cinemas here and in Haifa re-opened yesterday after the introduction of the British-Britannia turbo-prop aircraft which is due to arrive early in 1957.

Two groups of qualified maintenance engineers will be sent to Britain, England, for an extensive course in the maintenance of the new aircraft at the factory where they are manufactured. Since the Britannia engines are powered by gas-turbine engines, their maintenance requires specialized training.

Three Britannias have been ordered for the first stage, the second being the first foreign aircraft to do so. The new planes will be used only on long flight routes, such as Lyddo-New York, and will make regular flights of regular service flights.

After offering to the Phoenix International Company, of which Mr. Drew Pearson, whose column "Washington Mercury-Round," is syndicated nationally.

Mr. Pearson published the text of a letter which he said was sent to the Military Attaché of the Egyptian Embassy by Mr. W.H. Evans, Vice-President and general agent for the Phoenix International and agent for the British diplomatic mission.

He said that the letter states: "We have long-term agreements with the British Government, and we have no objection to your using our services."

After offering

140 German

M-54 and M-64 machines

at £100 each in addition to our services, we will be able to offer about £100,000 worth of equipment, including stamps available for immediate delivery in New York.

After offering

£100 each.

In addition, we can supply

German equipment to complement immediate demands.

Mr. Pearson

said yesterday:

"I am not going to offer

any more information about

our services."

Finally Brothers See New Play

Jerusalem Post Bureau

A special performance of "Lady of the Manor" by Leah Goldberg was presented at the New Cinema here by Rahav Nahman last night. The play deals with a young Jewish girl, married to Max Herzen, a nobleman, played by Max Goldstein. The other two members of the cast are Mrs. Shalom Haran and Mr. Yosef Tadmor.

In the audience were Mr. Moishe Kol, head of the Youth Aliyah Department.

Dr. Sonnenblum emphasized his speech of acceptance that the change was in no way a reduction on the former Chairman. He was brought about by the Minister of Interior to enable the Minister of Greater Ashkelon to pass into effect.

G. Z. DEPUTY MAYOR ELECTED IN RAMAT GAN

RAMAT GAN, Tuesday. — General Zionist councillors here elected deputy mayors at the annual meeting here tonight. Dr. E. Rabin, M.K., will perform his duties in an honorary capacity, and Mr. S. Hayman, former General Zionist M.K., will receive a salary.

Herut voted against the election of both the deputies, and the councilors of the Histadrut parties abstained.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

The play was directed by Mr. Chaim Plotkin and the decorations were done by Mr. Moshe Mokady.

THE JERUSALEM POST

Published as The Palestine Post in Hebrew, English and Arabic, daily except on Saturday, by The Post Limited. Registered at the G.P.O.

Editor
MERRION ASHON
TELEGRAMS: TUDR 2, LURIN

Headquarters Office and Management:
JERUSALEM: 2 Baber House,
P.O.B. 50, Tel. 4255 (4 lines)
TELEGRAMS: DUDU 100, Tel. 4255.
MAILED AT THE MAIL BOX:
P.O.B. 110, Tel. 4255.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: Israel IL 24.000
Foreign IL 24.000 per year.

Wednesday, September 24, 1952
VOLUME 5, NUMBER 36 — SIXTEEN PAGES

FROM HIS latest statement in Cairo it now seems apparent that Colonel Abdul Nasser is determined to identify himself completely with the comedy Egypt had been regularly presenting in connection with the maintenance of order and tranquillity along the Gaza strip border.

The farce has consisted in a regular pretence of conformity with each new proposal for a regulation of the situation immediately any proposal has come forward, only to be followed by a reversal of the situation or by steps for its complete nullification. Thus when General Burns, the Chief of Staff of the Truce Supervision Organization, suggested the conclusion of a Local Commanders' Agreement on this border, Egypt immediately announced her acceptance, but when the matter was brought down to the reality of the council table Egypt not only frustrated anything resembling such a compact but even refused the use of the word agreement in the very name of the item on the agenda, preferring to call it "arrangements," arrangements which she saw never came to anything.

Similarly Egypt accepted General Burns' proposal that only regular forces should be used along the Gaza border, but what in the end did she openly boast of — the use of the Fedayeen irregular murder and sabotage suicide squads. She agreed to the proposal by the T.S.O. Chief of Staff for an effective physical barrier and in the end advocated nothing more than the strengthening of barbed wire fences in front of her own positions. A similar fate befell the proposal for joint patrols. This was at first accepted and then categorically refused. In fact in the course of the Gaza talks, Egypt would not even consider General Burns' compromise proposal for simultaneous and parallel patrols to be supplied by each party on its own side of the demarcation line.

Colonel Abdul Nasser has timed his announcement to give a pretence of carrying out the recommendations of the recent Security Council meeting. He felt this step to be necessary because he has rarely stood on weaker ground. The behaviour of Egypt before, during and after the Gaza talks, the wave of terror which immediately followed her breaking them off, had shown her true face up too clearly in the eyes of the world.

But what in fact has Colonel Abdul Nasser really announced? His statement is tantamount to a declaration that Egypt is not going to budge one inch from her basic attitude of complete non-cooperation. She it was who suggested the withdrawal of 500 metres and that she now suggests doing. She once suggested strengthening her fences in front of her own positions and that is all her reference to a barbed wire fence in the latest pronouncement amounts to. Because the Security Council resolution did not make any specific proposal mandatory, the Egyptian dictator is using the opportunity to forward her own purposes. At the same time he can make a pretence of complying with the wishes of the Security Council.

There is another interesting feature in connection with the withdrawal of troops 500 metres from the border, which, as has been said, is an Egyptian proposal. Egypt has only one or two positions there at the most. It is understood that certain observation posts might be permitted with a limited number of soldiers even within this 500 metre limit. Thus we might well soon be presented with a spectacle of the very busy Egypt pushing a proposal which means exactly nothing at all.

The Cairo correspondent of Reuters' News Agency quoted Colonel Nasser as saying that a new "no-man's land" would be created. This is no doubt exactly what is intended: with Israeli territory left open to penetration and attack.

In the past, the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization has been far too prone to accept Egypt's early and hypocritical agreements to proposals at their face value. It is to be hoped that this time they will see the comedy for the sorry farce it is.

Jewish Life In Roman Times

By ANITA ENGLE

At both Shearin the Sandrin city, have just ended with the biggest finds since Professor Massi began excavations on the second-to-fourth-century Jewish catacombs there in 1936. Conducting the excavations for the third consecutive year is Dr. M. Avigad, of the Hebrew University working under the joint auspices of the University and the Israel Exploration Fund.

In the largest man-made cave ever found in Israel, 100 stone sarcophagi were discovered. Fragments of which threw new light on the little-known period following that of the Talmud and Mishna, when organized Jewish community life still existed in some parts of Palestine.

The sarcophagi, hewn from Caen limestone, are up to 20 metres long, 90 centimetres wide and 2.5 high. The two largest are estimated to weigh 8 tons each.

Jewish sarcophagi are rare, and this is by far the largest group ever found. In the pre-Roman era, under conditions of hundreds of graves, burial was almost invariably in narrow cuttings in the solid rock.

Probably the most interesting finds were two exquisitely carved fragments of white Italian marble, a headless torso of a young woman, 100 centimetres high, and a woman's hand, almost life-size. It is believed that they formed part of a great marble sarcophagus from Italy which had been smashed by grave robbers for building material. A man's head, carved on one end of the most important stone. Also decorating this sarcophagus are two eagles and two lions, some 90 centimetres long and 60 centimetres high.

Lively Carvings

Many of the sarcophagi are decorated with some form of carving in low relief. Modeling with a classical Roman style of sculpture is a lively and unconventional type of representation which experts consider to be distinctively Jewish folk art.

Distinguished for beauty of decoration and carvings is one of the largest sarcophagi in the corridor which has the following inscription in square Hebrew letters:

"Here rests Ativ, the daughter of Rabbi Gamliel, the son of Nehemiah, who died a virgin at the age of 22, and Etyon, the daughter of Rabbi Yehuda, the son of Gamliel, who died at the age of 8 years and 6 months."

The latter part of the inscription refers to a second sarcophagus placed just behind the first.

On the sides of two sarcophagi is a simple inscription in the same red paint lettering which marked the graves of Rabbi Nehemiah and Hasina, thought to be the sons of Rabbi Yehuda Ha-Nasi.

The inscription reads: "These are the sons of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.

The name of the teacher, the master, of Rabbi Akiva (Akiva). This name is the Greek equivalent of a name common in the Talmudic period: the name of a son who died at the age of 20 years.